Contractors To Arrive Monday.

THE contractors who will build the new Methodist Church will arrive Monday from Cincinnati and begin the work of dressing the stone to be used in the structure.

The question of selling the old church to the contractors for $450 or retaining it for use until the new church is completed, is now being considered by a committee. It is possible, however, that the work of tearing down the old church may be commenced next week.

Watch For This Dead-Beat.

LANDLORD HOWE, of the Windsor, would like to have an interview with a stranger who registered at the Windsor last Thursday. He remained at the hotel four days, had his meals served in his room, and then left the hotel at midnight, forgetting to pay his bill. He also took a cane and umbrella belonging to a guest of the hotel. The stranger had cuts on his nose and neck, and had a large sized lump on one of his legs. He was visited several times by a physician who would like to be paid for his services. As near as can be deciphered the name registered by the missing stranger reads: "George Lacy, City."

FOR SALE.—Sixteen toll-houses and lots will be sold by the County, at the court-house door, at eleven o'clock a. m., on February 1st.

Mrs. Thompson Drowned In Stoner.

MRS. JENNIE THOMPSON, wife of James Thompson, of East Paris, was drowned last night in Stoner, near the Paris Mill.

Last night about half-past seven o'clock Mrs. Thompson removed her shoes and putting a shawl over her head left her home, which is on the banks of Stoner. In about ten minutes she was missed, and a few minutes later her body was found in the water a short distance from the house.

The body was recovered by Mike Murphy and a negro man.

Mrs. Thompson was fifty years old and was the wife of James Thompson, who has been employed for years in the Paris Flouring Mills. She is the mother of Mrs. Blanche Dockenbrod, and is a sister of Frank Davis, the carpenter.

Coroner Ray will hold an inquest over the body this morning.

A late report is to the effect that a bucket was found near the shore where Mrs. Thompson's body was discovered, and it is said that Mrs. Thompson was after water and that she accidentally fell in and was drowned.

Funeral Of Dr. O. H. Buck.

THE funeral of Dr. O. H. Buck occurred Wednesday afternoon at the Second Presbyterian Church, the services being conducted by Rev. Dr. Rutherford and Eld. J. S. Sweeney, and the Knights Templar and Paris (Masonic) Lodge, No. 2. The remains were followed to their last resting place in the Paris cemetery by a large number of sorrowing friends. The following were the pall-bearers:

Knights Templar pall-bearers: Hugh Montgomery, Dan Peed, John Feeney, C. F. Dillake, George Little, J. F. Lemmon.
 Paris Lodge No. 2, pall-bearers: Dr. Wash Fithian, A. Shire, Dr. M. H. Daily, Dr. C. D. Cram, J. T. Ireland, Hart Talbot.

Honorary pall-bearers: G. B. Alexander, Wm. Myall, R. K. McCarney, E. H. Owings, F. R. Armstrong, T. E. Ashbrook, Jas. McClure, W. R. Thomas.

The K. of P. band, of Carlisle, marched with the Masons to the cemetery and assisted in the services.

A Story Of Sudden Death.

A STRANGE story of sudden death comes from the Newtown neighborhood: Noah Sagaser and Henry Pribble, of that vicinity, attended court Monday at Georgetown and it is alleged the latter drank considerable before leaving town. Sagaser held him in the break cart when they started home, and soon Pribble hiccupped and laid across Sagaser's lap. They rode thus to Pribble's home, when Sagaser discovered that his friend was dead, and his face was covered with blood. Dr. D. B. Knox, of Newtown, said that Pribble died from the bursting of a blood vessel. The verdict of Coroner Paxton, was in accordance with the above.

NUPTIAL KNOTS.

Engagements, Announcements And 'Sol-emnizations Of The Marriage Vows.

Miss Della Ramsey, one of Richmond's loveliest young ladies, will wed a Danville man, next month.

The marriage of Mr. Eli Pogue and Miss Scott Laytham, of Mayslick, will be solemnized January 28th, at Mayslick Christian Church.

Rodney H. Ragland and Miss Minnie May Martin eloped Sunday from Winchester, and were married at midnight in Jeffersonville, Ind.

R. M. Willett and W. L. Nicholson, of Maysville, figured in a double wedding Tuesday at Manchester, O. The brides were Misses Alberta and Viola Blackmore—the former becoming Mrs. Willett and the latter Mrs. Nicholson.

George Corzelius and Miss Georgia Moberly will be married January 28, at Richmond. Corzelius is a son of F. Corzelius, manager of the Glyndon Hotel, and Miss Moberly is a niece of Hon. W. Smith, the lone Bryan Elector of Kentucky.

The Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune said: "The marriage of Miss Rosa Salinger, of Georgetown, Ky., occurred at the Hotel Alms at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rabbi Philipson officiated, and about twenty-five guests were present at the ceremony and the dinner which followed later."

Mr. E. A. Goff, a merchant, of Indian Fields, Clark County, and Miss Ida Mae Mitchell, of Winchester, eloped Tuesday and were married at Lexington by Eld. J. I. Spencer in the parlors of the Christian Church. The bride is a daughter of Wm. Mitchell, who lived in this city several years ago, conducting a gent's furnishing goods store in the business house now occupied by Benj. Perry.

HOWARD-CLAY.

Wednesday afternoon, at 2:40 o'clock, Mr. Henry Clay Howard and Miss Maggie Clay were married in a beautiful ceremony pronounced by Rev. Dr. Rutherford at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. S. S. Clay, on Pleasant street. There were no attendants except Mr. E. F. Clay, Jr., best man, and the marriage was witnessed by only the immediate relations of the contracting parties. The wedding march was played by Prof. A. M. Gutzeit.

Always beautiful, the bride was even lovelier than usual in her wedding gown of white mull over silk. She wore the usual bridal veil and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Clay is widely known as one of Kentucky's loveliest women, and well does she merit the compliment. She also possesses many traits of mind and character which add to her personal charms.

The groom is Judge of the Bourbon County Court and is to be congratulated on winning such a superior life-partner.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip—either to Montgomery, Ala., or Detroit, Mich. The destination had not been announced when they left Paris. The bride's going-away dress was a stylish costume of gray and black cloth.

Judge and Mrs. Howard were the recipients of many costly presents. Among them were a beautiful chair presented by the Bourbon bar, and a silver service from the groom's bachelor friends.
